

Economy Type 1 Turbidity Curtain

What is a Economy Type 1 Turbidity Curtain and who is it for?

Economy Type 1 Turbidity Curtains, also known as Turbidity Barriers are designed and manufactured specifically for controlling silt and sediment in calm water applications such as small ponds, small lakes, canals and waterways with light wind and or current.

Economy Type 1 Turbidity Curtains are mostly used by installers and contractors working around or nearby a body of water to control and confine silt / sediment to an immediate work area, thereby preventing it from floating down stream and affecting marine life.

Reasons to use an Economy Type 1 Silt Curtain:

The Economy Type 1 model is the most economical way to go if you need to save money while complying with your silt containment requirements.

Where are Economy Type 1 Turbidity Curtains used?
